Federal Aid for Flood Farmers Appears Bright

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas farmers, and others who suffered losses in the damaging floods that plagued the state during the spring and early summer could look today on an encouraging picture of moves for federal aid.

"These developments occurred yesterday."

The state Disaster Committee scheduled a Little Rock meeting today to determine whether 25 counties are eligible for additional government assistance under the Agricultural Conservation Program.

2. Civil Defense Administration headquarters at Conway announced it had mailed $67,235 in checks this week for federal flood disaster aid in six counties.

3. Dale H. Smith, deputy administrator of the federal Farmers Home Administration, started on a tour of county FHA offices to investigate complaints that Arkansas farmers are having difficulty in obtaining emergency loans.

4. At Washington, Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) asked that Congress provide funds to help farmers in southwestern drought-stricken states rehabilitate their damaged crop lands.

The state Disaster Committee must recommend counties which qualify for aid under the Agricultural Stabilization Program and then the Department of Agriculture must approve.

Gas Tax Hits New High in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas gasoline tax collections hit an all-time high of $3,185,572 in July and the revenue picture looked bright in other respects, too.

State Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney said yesterday that the gasoline tax collections for the month were $122,743 more than in July 1956 and were $7,000 above the previous record set in October 1956.

Fees from sale of automobile and truck licenses also went up $108,714 to $2,408,119.

The state Highway Department which currently is in financial difficulty gets receipts from both of these taxes. The department has put the blame for some of its troubles on the fact that revenues fell below expectations during part of this year.

However, the Highway Department will not get any part of the July collections. Most of the total is committed for payment of principal and interest on highway construction bonds. A comparatively small balance goes for county road aid. The state treasurer's office said today the Highway Department won't begin to receive any money for this fiscal year which began July 1 until bond refinancing and other commitments are met.

Sales tax collections for July were $4,127,502, an increase of $1,332,332 from the $2,795,169 collected in July 1956 when the two percent tax was in effect.

Cheney said July sales tax collections were only $65,000 short of the amount expected from the 1 percent rate in the tax.

A total of $12,288,429 was collected from all sources in July. This was an increase of $1,648,804 over a year ago.

British Royal Family Is a Great Sales Team

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Britain's royal family is one of the greatest sales teams in the world.

Its garden party this week for 5,000 Americans — 3,000 members of the American Bar Assn. and their relatives — was a demonstration of compelling advertising for Britain.

Two hours' exposure to Queen Elizabeth II, the Queen Mother, Prince Philip, the princess royal and the Duchess of Kent made some of the Americans ecstatic.

Cecil B. Hurley, of Corpus Christi, Tex., called the Queen "a honey."

Said Charles N. Rhyne, District of Columbia, now president of the Bar Assn.: "She just like a Dresden doll. The Queen Mother is the most real person I've ever seen in my life."

"And the prince," broke in Mrs. Rhyne. "He's just so handsome."

Said Mrs. Herbert Brownell, wife of the U. S. attorney general: "She's the Queen magnificent. She's heavenly. And he—he's so handsome."

John Rank, of Lancaster, Pa., smiled broadly.

"She's a real doll," he said, "and the prince is a charmer."

Mrs. Nora Snyder, of Kansas City, took a deep breath.

"I was just thrilled absolutely thrilled to meet the prince."

The Americans who spilled out over the Buckingham Palace lawn made no secret of the fact that they came to see, meet and if possible, talk to members of the royal family.

Mrs. Benjamin Roth, of Youngstown, Ohio, told the Queen: "We have a daughter who is"

No Special Session, Says the Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus said today he does not plan to call a special session of the Legislature to alleviate the Highway Department's fund shortage until "some definite program has been formulated."

Referring to a statement yesterday by state Sen. Tom Allen of Brinkley, who predicted a special session, Faubus said:

"I am sure Senator Allen was only speaking the general feeling that one is necessary."

Faubus said he did not intend to "just toss the Highway fund problem into the laps of legislators. He added:

"I don't think the people want to it still without any work done on primary and secondary roads for the next two years."

That comment was in partial agreement with Allen's statement at Stuttgart yesterday. Allen had said "Very few if any primary-secondary road contracts will be let within the next 12 months and possibly 24 months."

Gulf Cuts Oil Purchase by 20 Per Cent

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gulf Oil Corp. today announced a 20 per cent cut in purchases of crude oil in five states effective from 7 a. m. today until further notice.

The cut applies to all crude connected to Gulf Refining Co., lines in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

A press release by the company's New Orleans office said the reduction "is imperative because of lack of available storage for continued receipts at the current rate."

"Gulf's production and purchase of crude have historically been in excess of its refinery requirements," the announcement said. "High inventories have resulted, in part, from a cutback in the requirements of Gulf's crude customers, due to failure of industry demand to increase as forecast."

Factors contributing to the accumulation of crude oil stocks in the past five months included curtailment of fuel oil sales as a result of the mild past winter, failure of European customers to take estimated crude requirements in connection with the oil lift to Europe, and reduced United States refinery runs the announcement continued.

Gulf said during the five month period the company's crude oil imports have been less than at any time since 1952.

At the same time, the announcement said the company intends to comply fully with President Eisenhower's request for a reduction in crude imports.

A 1941 automobile will be available on a downtown street next week for anyone who wants to let off steam—under police supervision.

Sledges will be rented for $1 to those with king-size grudges; smaller hammers will be available for the less temperamental.

Proceeds will go to a youth center construction fund.

Racketeer Dio Helped Organize Probers Are Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former union official testified today New York racketeer Johnny Dio once was employed by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union to help organize a Roanoke, Va., plant.

Leslie Washburn, former president of the old AFL United Auto Workers—now named the Allied Industrial Workers in the AFL-CIO—gave the testimony to the Senate Rackets Committee.

The date of Dio's alleged employment for the Roanoke job was not brought out specifically, but it was indicated it was around 1950.

Washburn said that in 1951, when he was seeking to oust Dio from the UAW-AFL, he went to David Dubinsky, president of the ILGWU, to ask his aid but got no help from Dubinsky. The latter is an AFL-CIO vice president and a member of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

Washburn said Dubinsky "got very excited" when Washburn told him that Dio had been in the UAW-AFL.

Washburn told the Senate Rackets Committee he granted a charter to the union's Local 102 in New York in 1950 without ever knowing Dio was financing it. He said he was told the charter was wanted by a group which was quitting a rival CIO union in belief it was Communist dominated.

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Racketeer Johnny Dio's former bodyguard, 240-pound, barrel-chested Tom D. Kelly, spoke before the Senate Rackets Committee today as perhaps the most colorful witness.

The committee is hearing evidence which "Christian McClellan" (D-Ark.) said will show that Tom D. Kelly was James R. Hoffa, in a corrupt deal with Dio, sought and may have achieved "strange hold" power over the Port of New York and "the entire Eastern Seaboard."

In San Francisco, Hoffa said he is "ready, willing and able" to answer committee questions.

Kelly, who pronounces and usually spells his last name as "Ray," is under indictment with Dio on conspiracy charges linked with the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. He is listed now as an officer of the Acme Dress Co. of Midvale, N. J.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said that before calling Ray, he may take testimony from Lesler Washburn, the longtime head of the old United Auto Workers and a bitter foe of Dio.

Kennedy told the committee yesterday that Washburn's efforts to push Dio and underworld hangers out of the UAW-AFL lost Washburn his job as the union's president.

Kennedy said Ray will be asked for the inside story of the former union president's fall.

Pineau Joins Conference of Ministers

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau flew to London today for a disarmament talks with Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd amid reports that the Allies are divided on the advisability and ways of making nuclear outbacks.

The British government has expressed opposition to halting immediately the testing of its newly developed H-bombs. And France has made clear that so long as nuclear weapon production continues, it wants "to get in the British-Soviet-U. S. nuclear inner circle by developing its own weapons."

Officials indicated that the detailed consideration of these problems would have to be kicked up to the three heads of government for possible solutions.

Dulles put in a busy day yesterday conferring with Western officials and Soviet disarmament delegate Valerian Zorin. Representatives of the five U. N. Disarmament subcommittee actions — Britain, France, Russia, Canada and the United States — met together for a working luncheon which Dulles attended.

The five delegations approved a noncommittal report for the U. N. parent Disarmament Commission to meet the Aug. 1 deadline it had set the subcommittee. Informants said the report made no mention of a recess in the talks and there was general agreement that the negotiations should be continued.

Folks on Hope Route 1 have a new mail carrier this morning with the retirement yesterday of Fred J. Petre after a little more than 22 years with the postal service. He made his regular run Wednesday morning and that was all, but apparently he hasn't completely retired as he was working on his farm yesterday afternoon and again this morning and couldn't be reached by telephone.

Mrs. Petre said he planned to devote his entire time to farming during his time as a rural mail carrier. Mr. Petre never had an automobile wreck although he drove in the neighborhood of 300,000 miles. . . . for this fine record he received a safe driving award from the Post Office department in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

Appoints a Mayor for Hamburg

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus yesterday appointed Clyn Sawyer, the mayor of Hamburg, as attorney for the State Insurance Department effective Sept. 1.

Sayer succeeds Perry V. Whitmore, who recently resigned to join an insurance company.

Sawyer with an Ashley County representative in the Arkansas Legislature for three terms. He has practiced law in Hamburg since 1951.

Life Sentence for Native of Arkansas

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A jury early today prescribed life imprisonment for Paul Ray Councilman after convicting the 31-year-old Los Angeles youth of the $1.50 robbery and slaying of an itinerant mining camp cook.

Councilman, a native of Appleton, Pope County, Ark., was the second 16-year-old from the Los Angeles area to be sentenced to life for the crime. Kenneth D. Kelley, from Whittier, Calif., acknowledged he fired the shot which killed Almond W. Jennings, 66, of Englewood, Colo.

Kelley testified he and Councilman had agreed they would shoot Jennings simultaneously so they would not know for sure which had killed him. Councilman testified he shot him on purpose.

To jury of 10 women and two men deliberated about 12 hours before convicting Councilman of first degree murder. He could have been sentenced to die.

Robert Harold Pogue, 41, of Bell Gardens, Calif., is awaiting trial on the same charge.

Two other youngsters from Bell Gardens were involved. Juvenile authorities sent Bob Schuchter, 15, to the State Industrial School Center Lee Anderson, 14, was released from similar custody so he could be treated at a psychiatric institution in California.

The five runaways picked up Jennings as he was trying to hitchhike a ride Jan. 11. They had run out of money after a spree across the Mexican border, spiked with whiskey and sloc gin. They took Jennings into a river bottom west of Phoenix and killed him. "For a lousy buck and a half," one of them told officers.

Railway Spray Damages Cotton

WYNNE (UP) — Thousands of dollars worth of cotton in Cross county, and parts of Greene county, have been damaged from a weed killer sprayed along the right-of-way of the Missouri Pacific railroad tracks.

The county agent's office here said it has received 154 claims for damage so far. Officials of the railroad and the chief of the state plant board pest control division are receiving the claim or damage reports.

Officials decline to make an estimate of the amount of cotton which will not produce as a result of the weed-killer, but said damage will vary, making it impossible to make an accurate estimate of total damage at this time.

$33 Billions for Defense Approved by Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed by voice vote today a $33,750,000,000 compromise bill providing funds for the Defense Department for the 12 months that began July 1.

As the Defense money bill went to President Eisenhower it carried $7,357,800,000 of new funds for the Army; $10,121,355,000 for the Navy and Marines; $10,314,100,000 for the Air Force; with the balance for the office of the secretary and for interservice activities.

The State acted with only brief debate after temporarily laying aside the civil rights bill.

It did so shortly after the White House said the Defense Department might not be able to meet their August payrolls unless the Senate acted on pending money bills stymied by the civil rights debate.

Approval of the nation to take up the defense appropriation bill temporarily displaced the civil rights bill. But it will automatically become the ending business again when the Senate completes action on the defense money bill.

Thoplan was to adopt a similar procedure for the Agriculture Department money bill. Both are compromise versions already passed by the House and needing only a final Senate okay to send them to the White House. Neither faced major opposition.

A White House statement said President Eisenhower was hopeful.

Ike Hails the Air Force on 50th Birthday

By BERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, air leaders and a grateful nation saluted the Air Force on its 50th birthday today.

Eisenhower paid his tribute in a message of congratulations to the Air Force Association which is sponsoring a nationwide observance of the golden anniversary of military aviation service.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, spoke and prayed at simple memorial services at Arlington National Cemetery as a formal ceremony as a formation of 11 supersonic F100 interceptors swept low overhead. There was a gap in their formation for a twelfth plane in memory of missing buddies.

By VERN HAUGLAND

AP Aviation Writer

"In this 50th anniversary year, the United States Air Force is a key element in the nation's power for peace," Eisenhower said.

"With vigor, imagination and a keen sense of duty, the Air Force has achieved a splendid tradition of service in defense of the free world."

Eisenhower expressed himself in a message of greeting to Reserve Brig. Gen. John P. Henebry of Chicago, president of the Air Force Assn.

tion of UAW-AFL Local 102 in New York. Sam Zakman, former president of that local, swore yesterday that he had been squeezed out by Dio and his hooligans.

In one hilarious interlude, Zakman, a self-styled former Communist, told the story of Benny (The Blue) Ross, an organizer he said Dio hired for Local 102 of UAW-AFL.

Benny, said Zakman, "was unethical but it worked." What's more, he said, Benny "didn't believe in elections" to decide who should be the collective bargaining agent for any plant.

Benny's approach was much more fundamental, as Zakman told it. "He'd just walk into a plant, pull the switch, and say 'Everybody out. The place is on strike.'"

Zakman said it was "fantastic but true" that the workers usually would walk out, sign up with the union, and that was that. "He was a hard worker," Zakman said. "He just ran from shop to shop."

Zakman said Dio put up the money that installed Zakman as president of Local 102 when it was organized, with Ray as one of the organizers of it. Then, he said, with a apparent lift from one Anthony Doria in the international union headquarters, Dio moved in as business manager and before long Zakman was out and Doria the union.

Gavilan Wants a Fight With Basilio Now

MIAMI BEACH, (UP) — Former welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan, with his own cocksureness, demanded a title fight with Carmen Basilio today while even his victim in last night's 10-rounder Gaspar Ortega admitted he was soundly trounced.

"That Gavilan looked like he did when he was champion. He fought a really great fight," said Api Rodriguez, trainer of Mexican Ortega, who claims to speak no English. "Sure, he won and we were beaten good."

From Gavilan, who said he "fell just fine — I could go another 10 rounds right now," came a chorus that the Senate "will act as rapidly as it can."

Press secretary James C. Hagerty described the statement as the simply settling out the situation that exists.

But the practical effect appeared to be to put White House influence behind moves in the Senate to place the civil rights bill aside temporarily in order to act on money measures.

At the Capitol, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said the supporters of the bill are willing to lay it aside to provide urgently needed cash for the Defense and Agriculture departments.

"I think we can pass both of them promptly," Knowland said. Action on these two compromise annual money bills would permit a prompt return to the civil rights dispute as soon as they are passed. However there would be no limit upon debate on the money bills.

Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas said he would ask the Senate to act on the money bills during the day but was uncertain just when he would make that move.

"We have some speeches and other things to get out of the way first," he said.

While willing to act on the two compromise money bills, Knowland said civil rights supporters "probably must resist" efforts to consider other legislative matters.

"These include stopgap authority to pay government workers in numerous other agencies that still lack funds for the new fiscal year that began July 1, or restoration of authority for the Small Business Administration, which expired last midnight."

"Consideration of these matters would push aside the civil rights bill unless we get a unanimous explained."

of challenges to Basilio to fight the kid or "hang up the gloves."

Basilio is scheduled to fight middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson Sept. 23. As champion, Gavilan decided Basilio in 1953 and claimed last night he "could do it again any time."

Last night's unanimous decision over Ortega, before a capacity crowd at the Miami Beach Auditorium and a national television audience, was a triumphant end to a losing "jinx" which began after Gavilan lost his title in a much-disputed fight with Johnny Saxton in 1954. Since then, the bologn-punching Cuban has won only six of 20 bouts.

"In a lot of these last fights we feel that the kid won hands down," said Manager Yamil Chade. "But last night they couldn't turn him down."

Gavilan weighed 153 pounds to 146½ for Ortega.

Gavilan, 21, a veteran of 14 years as a professional, conceded when he could last night, but exploded time and again with vicious attacks which drove Ortega into the ropes. Gavilan braved searing counter punches from Ortega but never faltered.

40,000 Won Over by Billy Graham

NEW YORK (AP)—"Decisions for Christ" during evangelist Billy Graham's New York crusade climbed past the 40,000 mark last night, his staff reported. At Graham's latest, 400 persons stepped up to make "decisions" at the crusade meeting in Madison Square Garden. That brought the total to 40,048 since the start of the crusade May 15. Seventeen thousand persons heard the evangelist last night. That raised total attendance for the crusade to 1,312,000.

In his sermon, Graham said there are many passages in the Bible pointing to a life after death. He took as his text II Kings 20:1—"Set thy house in order for thou shalt die and not live." The evangelist said: "At the end of the life of every man and woman recorded in history there comes the phrase, 'He died.' God has an appointment made between you and death. Death is an enemy which must be faced with reality. The atheist says there is no hope beyond the grave, but Jesus Christ is the one supreme authority on the subject, for he alone of all history died and rose again from the dead. In his own words Jesus claimed 'I am the resurrection and the life. He that liveth and believeth in me shall never die.'"

Believes Paar Can Save TV Show 'Tonight'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—I believe Jack Paar can rescue NBC-TV's "Tonight" show from the doldrums in which it has been floundering since Steve Allen left for the Sunday night wars.

On his opening night Paar came out slowly, but he always has come out slowly in his opening rounds. He's returning in general to the old Allen format, but he's making it very clear he's not imitating Allen. He's simply being Paar.

Being Paar is being an individualist. He says that you won't hear any jazz and live talk from him on "Tonight," even though there's a theory that jazz lovers are always still up at midnight. Paar could easily acquire a little superficial jazz talk, but he won't because it doesn't interest him.

Being Paar, he lives with his wife and daughter and swimming pool and a lot of books up in Westchester County and always enters the city reluctantly and leaves it as quickly as he can.

The new "Tonight" show is further adorned by the music of Jose Melis, the Cuban pianist, and—at least for this week—by singer Helen O'Connell. Another pleasant innovation in the sexy weather girl, Tedi Thurman.

There's a relaxing quality to the program, though some people believe that the problem with "Tonight" in the past year has not been the nature of the program itself, but the old movies against which it competes.

27 Companies Win Tax Rebates

By B. L. Livingstone

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-seven American corporations won federal tax rebates in excess of a million dollars each during 1956, the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation reported today. They topped the list of taxpayers who received individual refunds or tax credits exceeding $100,000 and totaling $136,264,344 for the year.

Rival Factions Claim Results in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The leaders of Argentina's two biggest political parties each claim results of Sunday's constituent assembly election promise their factions victory in the presidential balloting next February.

Ricardo Balbin, whose moderate Radical party came out on top Sunday, predicted an "even bigger" victory in February. He said his party had barely gotten organized before the election.

A similar victory claim was issued by Arturo Frondizi, standard bearer of the anti-reform left wing of the Radicals. Although he trailed Balbin's forces Sunday, Frondizi told a correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune the followers of ex-dictator Juan Peron would join his own supporters to elect him president.

In another bid for the Peronist vote, Frondizi promised a general amnesty if elected—in other words legalization of the now-outlawed Peronist party—and permission for Peron to return from exile and participate in Argentine political life on an equal footing with other citizens.

Peron issued a heated statement in Caracas labeling Sunday's elections a fraud and branding Provisional President Pedro Ramirez a dictator. Peron in effect placed second in the election, since more than two million voters, or about 25 per cent, headed his appeal to cast blank ballots.

Final official returns awaited a drawnout count of the ballots by a special electoral commission. But the interior ministry issued "provisional" returns listing 2,127,161 votes for the moderate Radicals, 2,080,121 blank ballots and 1,821,459 for Frondizi's leftists.

The outcome of the presidential race thus appeared to depend on whether smaller, moderate parties—which polled more than 1,600,000 votes on Sunday—would unite behind a moderate radical candidate, and how the Peronists would swing in the February balloting.

The interior ministry said that the moderate radicals and minor parties backing Ramirez's plans to amend the 1953 constitution had won a total of 114 seats in the 205-member assembly.

RAF Steps Up Raids on Oman Rebels

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—Royal Air Force Venom fighters stepped up their activities against the Oman rebels by attacking them in the open for the first time, British spokesmen said today.

The attack, made yesterday, destroyed six vehicles by rocket and machinegun fire in the heart of the rebel area. Earlier air strikes had been restricted to heavily walled forts.

The uprising is another in a series by the Imam of Oman, against the Sultan of Oman and Muscat, an Arabian potentate who has asked British assistance. A reliable source said British pilots aided the Sultan now have been ordered to attack and destroy rebel transport and materials only after making a few passes to scare away the rebels themselves.

Paid 30c to Start a $127,000 Fire

TAIPEI (AP)—Police today said an arsonist was paid the equivalent of 30 American cents for setting a fire that destroyed $127,000 worth of baggage. The pressed jugur came pulp was stockpiled in Hsiangying, in southern Formosa, and belonged to the Taiwan Pulp and Paper Corp.

Police said Lu Su-shan, 23, told them his uncle, Li wan-Shen, had paid him 10 Formosa dollars to set the pile. The uncle wanted revenge, because the company fired him for inefficiency last May.

Man Stages Brawl Before the Court

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A 37-year-old man charged with beating his wife put on a return match with her and three policemen in Magistrate's Court here yesterday.

Joseph Crowe, an unemployed laborer, stood in the courtroom beside his wife Clara, 32, and heard Judge William Hodes agree with his wife that he needed psychiatric treatment.

Crowe meekly thanked Judge Hodes and Detective James Caffrey for the decision. Then he turned to his wife and said, "And thank you dear."

With that, he hauled off and punched her in the face. Mrs. Crowe started to run, her husband in hot pursuit behind her. When she lunged under a bench, Crowe, a wiry 5 feet 8, began kicking her in the ribs.

Within moments, the courtroom echoed with screams from Mrs. Crowe and other women. Throughout it all, Judge Hodes gave banged for order.

It took Detectives Caffrey and Thomas Swangin and Patrolman William Altwell to subdue handcuffed the frate husband. The two detectives, both stocky men, were kicked in the legs during the melee.

Judge Hodes finally counted Crowe out. He sentenced him to one year in the county penitentiary on his wife's assault and battery complaint for a private bout in their apartment last July 29.

Texas' Paar Sentenced to 10 Years

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—George B. Parr, 55, was sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $20,000 yesterday on a federal conviction of using the mails to defraud a school district in Duval County where he long has been a political figure.

Federal Judge Joe Ingraham sentenced the south Texas politician figure to five years on each of 20 counts in the indictment, but divided them into two groups of 10 counts and directed that they should run concurrently. Parr was fined $1,000 on each count.

The government accused Parr and eight associates of defrauding the Benavides Independent School district of more than $220,000 in tax funds, mainly by issuing and cashing checks made out to fictitious persons.

The government charged the checks were sent through the mails.

Parr, although not an official of the school district, kept the tax records in his office at San Diego, Tex., for some 15 years until they were moved back to Benavides in 1951. He countersigned the district's checks from 1955 until early 1954, part of the period covered in the indictment.

The other defendants were officials of the school district and two banks which Parr formerly headed.

The banks, since liquidated, also were defendants. They were the Texas State Bank at Alice, Tex., and the San Diego State Bank. Parr testified brought out that the institutions were insolvent and the principal directors were listed as codefendants. The Texas State Bank was fined $2,000 on 20 counts and the San Diego State Bank $900 on nine counts.

The other defendants drew sentences ranging from four years imprisonment to suspended sentences and fined up to $7,000. The and Parr were free on bond pending a hearing on a motion for a new trial.

Parr, who also is under a five-year state sentence for theft from the district, was convicted of income tax evasion in 1934 and served nine months on a two-year suspended sentence given him after his probation was revoked in 1936. President Truman pardoned him in 1946.

Parr was declared bankrupt last January, listing among his liabilities more than $800,000 in taxes claimed by federal, state and county governments.

Charges Sum Spent on Tanks a Total Loss

WASHINGTON (UP) — House investigators reported to Congress today that the Army has spent seven years and hundreds of millions of dollars to build heavy tanks that may not prove useful in nuclear war.

The investigating group, a House government operations subcommittee, requested a full-scale investigation by the comptroller general of the production schedules and spending by the Army and the manufacturer, the Chrysler Corp. In its report, the subcommittee said that the Chrysler Corp. was given "virtually a blank check" and told to build the tanks, T43s, "in a hurry."

"In a point of fact, the delivery dates were not met," the subcommittee said, "and the tanks were not acceptable for service. Testing showed that 114 modifications had to be made before the tanks were acceptable to the Army," the report said. The Marine Corps, it noted, still refuses to accept the 62-ton tank — the heaviest ever produced in quantity in the United States — for its ground forces.

The committee blamed the Army's "sharply divided" opinion about the use of heavy tanks in nuclear warfare for the failure to come up with a top notch weapon. It said that after spending many millions on a tank that had serious deficiencies, the Army was finally persuaded to spend a few more millions to correct a large number of the deficiencies, but not enough to satisfy the tank corps.

Harry, Dottie Favorites at Club Openings

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Ever hear of Harry and Dottie Jameson? All headwaiters and celebrities know the Jamesons. They have one of the world's most expensive hobbies — attending night club openings.

Harry is a millionaire. He made it from storage batteries and lumber. Once Harry and Dottie took a plane to London just because Lena Horne, one of their top favorites, was opening at a smart West End club.

Lena, recalling the incident, says she was not in the least surprised. The Jamesons hop to Las Vegas, New York and in-between spots much as you and I would go, to the neighborhood movie. Once Joe E. Lewis played a two-week engagement at the Mocambo here. Harry was present 13 of the 14 times the famed comic took the floor. He apologized to Lewis for missing the one show because his plane was delayed on return from an Oregon business trip.

Among the Jamesons' close friends are Spike and Helen Grayco. Jones. When Spike's show opens, someplace, even if it's a small town, break-in date, the Jamesons are there.

The Dugats, Xavier and Abbe Lane, are also close friends. Once the Jamesons flew to Spain when the Dugat band played in a Barcelona bull ring.

When not nightclubbing, the Jamesons live in a $250,000 home in Beverly Hills. It's one of the few $250,000 homes with only two bedrooms.

The Jamesons' reason for loving nightclub acts so much is simple. "We just get fun out of it," says Harry. Both are excellent dancers.

Harry always insists on picking up the check and never comes without famous guests to an opening. One year Ciro's reported that the Jamesons' annual tab was close to $20,000—not including tips. He's a big tipper.

Game Refuge Work May Start Soon

RUSSELLVILLE, (AP) — Construction of the proposed Holla Bend Waterfowl Refuge may begin next month, W. L. Townes, regional director of the federal Fish and Wildlife Service, said here last night.

Townes addressed meeting of supporters of the refuge which will be located on the Arkansas River about five miles south of the site of the proposed Barden Dam.

Townes said federal funds for construction will be available as fast as they can be wisely spent. Lawrence Givens of Washington, supervisor of the Bureau of Refugees, said planners hope to have a goose population of 10,000 birds and a duck population of 50,000 in the Holla Bend area.

Givens said the bureau will place 100 to 150 geese in the area. He said both ends of the horse-shoe-shaped chute of the Arkansas River will be closed off to create a lake for the birds.

Givens said the refuge will employ about six men, including a director. A director's home will be built on the refuge.

Roads will be constructed so the public can visit the area, Givens said.

The Spanish village of Llivia is located in France. A private road connects it with the mother country.

Wants to Limit Nuclear Donation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) — repeatedly failing to limit the President's treaty-making powers—is now making progress in another direction.

This time he wants to limit the President's freedom to hand over American nuclear materials to the newly created International Atomic Energy Agency, President Eisenhower proposed such an agency Dec. 8, 1955.

Eisenhower's idea was to develop atomic energy on an international scale for peaceful uses. Nations with nuclear materials, like the United States and Russia, would put some of them into an IAEA pool on which the haven nations could draw.

Slightly nations on both sides of the Iron Curtain, after three years of debate on Eisenhower's proposal, agreed last fall on the form of a treaty to create the IAEA. The Senate approved this treaty June 18 after Bricker failed to get the Senate to say Eisenhower could provide IAEA with no materials without prior consent of Congress.

He called the Senate decision not to go along with him "suicidal folly." Two Rhode Island Democrats — Senators Green and Pastore — swung hard at him. Green said Bricker's idea would "play into Russia's hands." Pastore said it would destroy "the very thing the President is trying to do." But this, a will be seen, didn't discourage Bricker.

The IAEA would work like this: Before a have-not nation could get nuclear materials it would have to show how and why it would use them; it would need a power plant, or reactor, for using them; it might need to get its own scientists and specialists trained; and an inspection system would have to be in operation to be sure the materials given the have-not were used for peace and not for weapons-making.

This might, for some nations, take years. Just getting a power plant built to use the materials would take three to four years. And the United States would not have to hand over materials until the have-not was ready to use them and the inspectors were on the job.

Since the treaty doesn't say a nation has to hand over materials — but only "may" do so — it would seem this country could refuse in any given situation.

Although the Senate-approved treaty made this country a member of IAEA, this has no practical meaning until both houses of Congress agree.

press approves what is called participating legislation. That is: a bill authorizing Eisenhower to appoint American representatives in the IAEA and so on.

Drawing up the bill for this is the job of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee. Bricker is a member of it. On June 19, one day after the Senate approved the treaty but turned down Bricker's proposal, the committee met. It voted 14-2 to accept Bricker's idea and wrote into the bill this provision:

Aside from 5,000 kilograms of uranium 235 which Eisenhower already has promised IAEA, any other materials he wants to turn over to the agency must first be approved by Congress.

At first the Eisenhower administration protested, but if soft-pedaled its opposition later. Yesterday the committee met again, kept the Bricker proposal in the bill, and now sends it up to both houses of Congress for approval.

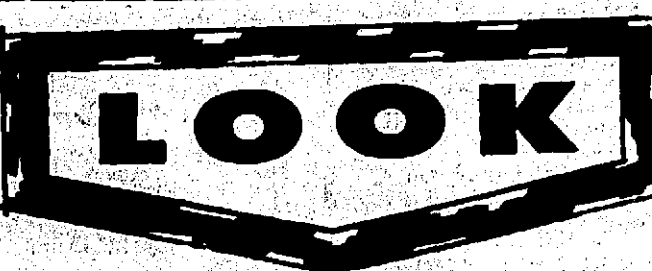

A tidy fight in House and Senate looks certain.

CHAPTER XVI

The ferry moved away from the south bank, coming back, and I decided I'd better keep away from Nev Hawk. I veered Pilot west and, headed for the far. Near the water—I pulled Pilot down and let him pick his way through the rocks. He knew that ford and didn't like it. On the other bank I spurred him to a good run to make sure I didn't lose Crone. Topping a rise, I saw Crone on the two horses black against the gray sweep of prairie. When I hit the river bank I stopped and let Crone pull well ahead. There was still room between the road and the river but not enough to suit me. All I wanted was to see where Crone was going. If the moon held, I could do that. I safer some distance back. There was a black spot on the prairie well to the east of the road. I stared at it for a time and decided it was a horse and rider, either not moving or just easing along. I wondered what a rider would be doing over there so late at night. Likely he was thinking the same about me and Birch Crone. I moved out again and started worrying about what I'd do when I hit the Clements' cabins. I considered pulling off to the east of the road. I thought about that rider over there and decided not to. Just to many folks out on the prairie for the middle of the night. It didn't suit me at all.

Pulling out of a dip I saw the buildings on the Clement place. Crone was still 200 yards away from the turnoff and I wated to see what he'd do. Im he went past I was wrong. If he turned in I had chance to be right.

Crone turned into Clements' yard. When I saw him do it I nudged Pilot off the rise and started to move to the road. Then I wheeled him and came back to the rise. I could watch the cabins better from there.

State Police to Hold a Training Camp

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—State Police Director Herman Lindsey announced today that a State Police training school will open at Camp Robinson on Aug. 18 and continue for six weeks.

Lindsey said letters were being sent out to approximately 50 men who have been selected to attend the school after interviews, investigations and preliminary examinations. Those who complete the course successfully will become troopers.

The 1957 Legislature authorized the employment of 87 additional troopers. Lindsey said a second school will be held later for the other prospective new policemen. He said no dates had been set.

Each year citizens of the United States read approximately 18 billion, 500 million newspapers.

Just picked your way around an over and between rocks of every size and shape. Sometimes you'd hit a washed place and you'd have easy going. Next you'd be squeezing through a cut or pulling over a long rock face.

I set off into the rocks, my rifle in one hand, Pilot's reins in the other. I didn't want to stay close to Crone. I just wanted to see him when he pulled up out of the rocks. I thought I knew a place that would help me do it and I headed for it as best I could, getting some help from moonlight on the light sandstone. Then the rocks were all the world around me and it was like that until I'd picked my way through the light and moon shadow to the ledge I was looking for. I let Pilot's reins drop and crawled up a sharp ridge, slipping once and almost falling, trying not to think about the snakes. On the narrow ledge I turned around and looked north and saw the long reach of the south ridge rising out of the breaks.

Then I saw the shapes of two horses, with a man leading, pull out into dim light at the edge of the breaks and cut straight for a ravine that showed to me as a darker slash in the steep grass slope of the south ridge. I knew that ravine. It had at least a dozen caves up in it and I could find every one of them. In daylight I could find them. At night I didn't know.

Dulles Confers With Soviet Delegation

By WATSON SIMS

LONDON—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles met for the first time with Russian delegate Valerian Zorin today amid indication that the long search for a disarmament agreement may be at a critical point.

The Dulles-Zorin get-together was part of feverish diplomatic activity by the big three Western powers on this next to the last day of the period originally set for negotiations by the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee. The five power group has been meeting since March 1.

Dulles met with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and other Western officials before sitting down at a full-scale "working luncheon" of all five delegations on the subcommittee, including Zorin.

Across the channel in Paris, the French cabinet met and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau announced he was flying to London tomorrow at Dulles' request for disarmament talks.

The British cabinet, too, was called into session to discuss disarmament.

In addition, Dulles planned to confer with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at dinner tonight to discuss the arms situation and other world problems.

The Western delegates have agreed to submit a brief interim report to the U.N. on the subcommittee talks tomorrow, unofficial deadline for the talks, and to extend the negotiations. I was expected that Zorin would agree.

The maneuvering seemed to indicate either that Britain, France and the United States have run into differences—or that they are preparing some important new proposal for Russian consideration.

Bakers Union Probe Before Committee

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee renews hearings today into charges the Bakers and Teamsters unions are corruptly dominated.

Ouster from the federation could result if the charges are sustained and the unions do not clean house.

The five-man practices group called in officials of the Bakers today and scheduled a similar closed door hearing tomorrow for officers of the truck union.

It was reported the committee also may look into the activities of a third union, the United Textile Workers.

The committee is charged with enforcing new AFL-CIO codes to rid organized labor of corrupt influences.

High officials of all three union groups—the Teamsters, Bakers and UTW—have been implicated in disclosures before the Senate Rackets Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.).

The Ethical Practices Committee has drawn up a bill of particulars on officials of the 160,000-member Bakery Workers International Union, based on testimony before the Senate committee, but this report has not been yet made public.

James G. Cross, Bakers Union president, was the official of that union most under fire in the Senate hearings. Among other things, he was accused of beating up union political foes, borrowing some $100,000 from a baking industry employer, and keeping a convicted prostitute on the union payroll as an "organizer."

Leopold had asked for commutation of the 85-year sentence to 64 years. If the sentence had been reduced he would have been eligible for release without supervision after serving half his sentence, 32 years, plus 15 months.

The issue of parole was not involved in Leopold's petition for freedom but Stratton held out the possibility of parole. If denied a parole, Leopold, under the current 85-year sentence, will not be released until 1988 if he continues maximum "good time" allowance.

The balding convict, who as a youth of 19 with Richard Loeb, 18, killed the Franks boy in Chicago in 1924 in one of the most sensational crimes of the 1920s, has been turned down three times in bids for parole since 1933.

Before he was named to the U. S. Supreme Court in 1939, Justice William O. Douglas was chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Thrill slayer Nathan Leopold has lost his bid for an unconditional release from Stateville Prison, where he has served 34 years of an 85-year sentence, but he plans a new plea to win a parole.

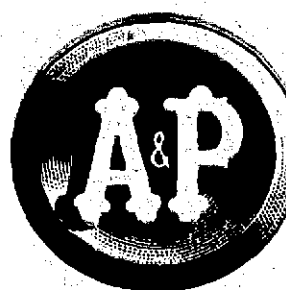

Gov. William G. Stratton yesterday denied executive clemency to the 52-year-old convicted killer of Bobby Franks, 14, dashing a new plea for early release.
